

Affordable New Way To Renovate Your Kitchen

By Casa Mia Inc

Dated: Feb 23, 2009

Casa Mia Inc in cooperation with Cubo Design srl. the maker of the fine italian kitchens marketed under the brand of Miton introduces a new way...

Casa Mia has recently introduced a new concept in kitchen renovations.

Traditionally, if you would be interested in renovating your kitchen and were in the market for new Italian Kitchen Cabinetry you would take steps to visit your nearby showroom, the process would start by having a designer come over to your place and offer several consultations in order to arrive at a design that would best appeal to your needs, taste, and budget.

Normally, such procedure takes lots of effort and time, which would simply mean that these costs would be passed on to the consumer.

Realizing the tough economic times Casa Mia Inc and Miton have responded to the current situation by finding a way to creatively allow perspective clients save money and still be able to afford the fine Italian Kitchen Cabinetry Collection [<http://casamia-us.com/miton.htm>].

In addition to the special sale that is currently going on [check at <http://casamia-us.com/Specials.html>] Casa Mia will now be able to provide best pricing on the new program titled "Client Supplied Information", the new program is quite simple, effective and most of all rewarding.

With the new program a perspective client would simply contact Casa Mia and supply a layout along with the correct dimensions and appliance type / locations. Additionally, Casa Mia would be interested in finding out the following:

1. Model of desired kitchen [From Casa Mia web site].
2. Finish material, color, and hardware selection [From Casa Mia web site].

Once a perspective client submits this information along with contact information, Casa Mia will present an offer which will include pricing for the kitchen and delivery options.

By taking the time to do some "homework" and avoid extensive meetings with the designers at the showroom, Casa Mia will be able to cut costs dramatically and thereby passing on the savings to the consumer.

Of course, if you still insist on the "traditional" way you are welcome to visit Casa Mia showroom at anytime!
